

Name: Sharon Sullivan, OSU

Hometown: Houston, Texas

Entrance Date: Aug. 1, 1982

Temporal Profession: Jan. 15, 1984

Final Profession: Jan. 11, 1987

Educational background: B.A. in history, teacher certification in elementary and special education, M.A. in education, and Ph.D. in special education.

Ministry Background: Pastoral care, director of residential life, director of special education faculty, campus ministry team, special education faculty, and vice president for academic affairs/academic dean at Brescia University.

Present Ministry: Congregational Leader for the Ursuline Sisters of Mount Saint Joseph.

Interests and Hobbies: Reading, camping/hiking, origami, environmental activities, and music.

Favorite book or author: Any good storyteller; especially those that explore guided human triumph over forces of evil – can be historical, fiction, fantasy, or science fiction.

Favorite movie: Well, Gandhi was most powerful.

Favorite Scripture passage: Paul's prayers, Jesus' conversations with Peter because they give me hope, and the Song of Songs traps my heart.

Favorite quote of Angela: "If you see one who is faint-hearted, timid, and inclined to give way to discouragement, then comfort her, encourage her, reassure her of God's mercy, gladden her heart with every possible consolation." Second Counsel

What attracted me to the Ursuline Sisters: My first contact with Ursuline Sisters was when I was working as a professional Girl Scout. Those sisters were fully human and fully alive. The Ursulines I encountered since have embodied the notion that "the glory of God is man/woman fully alive."
